

Vanguard Target Retirement Funds Overview

Objective

- Seeks to provide growth of capital and current income consistent with the investor's time horizon.
- Easy to use fund-of-funds structure that holds a portfolio of diversified stock, bond (including inflation-protected securities), and short-term reserves funds.
- Automatically carries out investment selection, asset allocation, and rebalancing through retirement.
- Allocation between stock and bond funds automatically becomes more conservative over time—reaching a final allocation during retirement.

Funds

Vanguard Target Retirement Funds Overview

Vanguard Target Retirement Funds deliver important benefits to plan sponsors and participants.

Fund Characteristics:

- Consists of twelve different funds based on expected retirement dates.
- Fund automatically grows more conservative as retirement date approaches.
- Asset allocation changes are kept within narrow ranges around target allocations.
- Each fund is composed of index funds.
- No additional program fees above those of underlying funds.
- Funds are easy to explain to participants.

Target Audience:

- Investors who prefer a broadly diversified one-fund solution that requires no investment decisions.
- Investors of any age or time horizon, including:
 - Investors in the accumulation, transition, or withdrawal phases.
 - Novice to sophisticated investors who lack the time or desire to monitor their investments but who want professional management.

Investment Rationale*:

- Asset allocation is the key decision in explaining performance variation.
- Tactical asset allocation and security selection, on average, increase risk and reduce return.
- Controlling costs allows investors to keep more of their returns.

Portfolio Construction:

- Asset allocations become more conservative closer to retirement using qualitative judgment based on:
 - Historical return data for stocks, bonds, and cash 1926–2011.
 - Simulated returns from real time path and Monte Carlo analysis based on historical data 1926–2011.
- Given investors' preferences and risk tolerance:
 - Appropriate asset allocation choices.
 - Broad diversification across asset classes and market segments.
 - Limited manager and active management risk through the predominant use of index funds.
 - No black-box tactical asset allocation moves.
- Quarterly incremental change in target allocation to reduce potential impact of market conditions.
- Inflation protection through equities when young and through TIPS close to and after retirement.

Benefits to Investor:

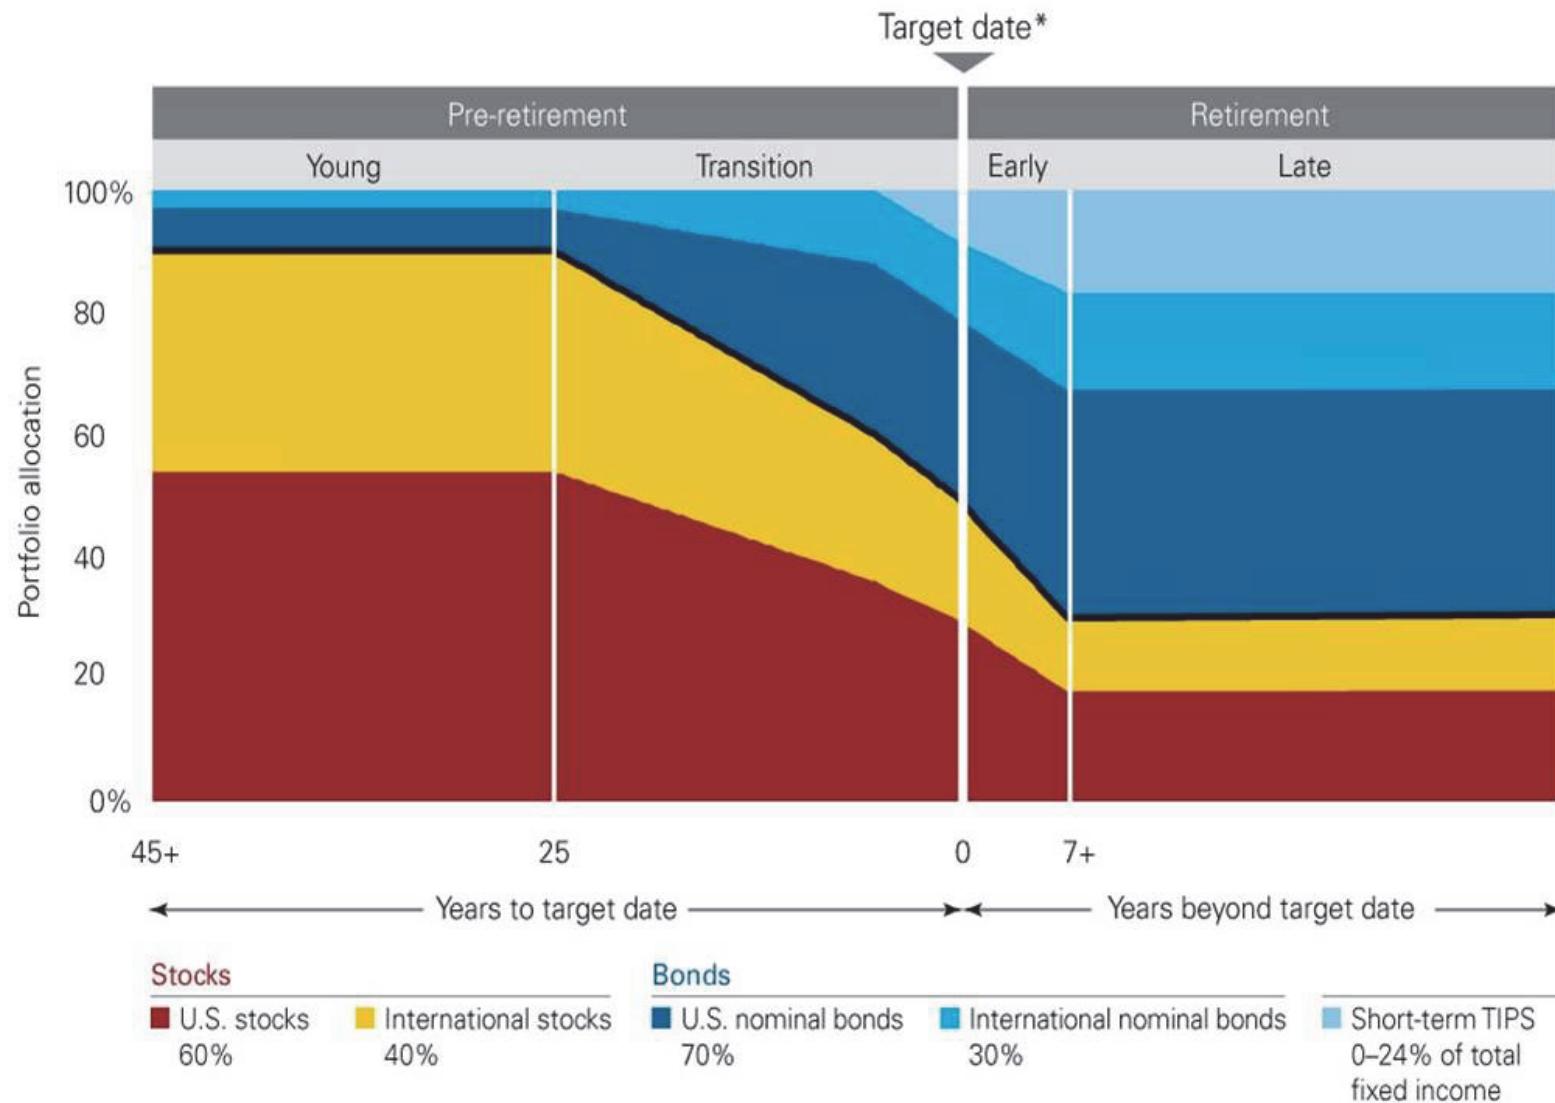

- Sophisticated portfolio in a single fund.
- Transparency of returns, risks, and costs.
- Low cost leaves more of the return for the investor.

*Vanguard's investment rationale is based on modern financial theory and Vanguard's experience managing client portfolios in Personal Financial Planning and Asset Management Services. See supporting evidence in "Sources of Portfolio Performance: The Enduring Importance of Asset Allocation," July 2003, Vanguard.

Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against a loss.
